

SEWING DEPARTMENT, JACKSON COLLEGE, JACKSON, MISS.

This department is well equipped and under the care of a competent instructor. It is well located in the recently constructed brick building also used by the Primary Department, and containing the Chapel seating 500, the office, library, and three recitation rooms. Commencement week each girl must wear the college uniform of blue and white, made in the sewing department at a cost of $1.50.

AYER HALL, JACKSON COLLEGE, JACKSON, MISS.

A brick building, four stories, 115 feet long named after the first president of the institution. Dormitory for boys. Contains also the Academy class-rooms, and in the basement carpenter and paint shops, tool, trunk, and bath rooms.